(a) whether India, with the backing of other countries such as Britain, China and Russia, has been trying to thwart the attempts of some developed nations to impose conditions on sustainable development;

(b) whether the World Summit on Sustainable Development was held recently;

(c) if so, what were the main decisions taken; and

(d) what was the India's view?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF ENVIRONMENT AND FORESTS (SHRI DILIP SINGH JUDEV): (a) and (b) The World Summit on Sustainable Development (WSSD) was held in Johannesburg, South Africa during August-September, 2002. In the Summit, some industrialized nations made an attempt to include certain issues such as eco-labelling, life-cycle analysis criteria, and inclusion of core labour standards of ILO. India and some other like minded countries successfully opposed inclusion of these references in the text of the 'Plan of Implementation' of WSSD.

(c) and (d) The main outcome of the Summit was the adoption of the Johannesburg Plan of Implementation' (JPOI). In addition to JPOI. A political declaration in the form of 'Johannesburg Declaration' was also adopted. India through G-77 and China was able to ensure that poverty eradication and un- sustainable patterns of consumption and production were given top priority in the JPOI which calls for immediate international action to tackle these issues.
